EXECUTIVE & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
CONTINUING EDUCATION

We are always looking for new ways to make learning work best for our participants. Whether that's new and relevant content or offering classes that suit busy work schedules or both. And this year that means we get to launch a new program this Spring.

Very excited to roll out a new 8 day Certificate in Comprehensive Project Management. A chance to fast-track Project Management learning in three modules and complete the program before the end of May.

The instructor and certificate developer, Sandra Martyn has been hooked on Project Management from the first project she worked on. As a respected project management trainer in North America, Sandi consistently receives the highest ratings from her clients for the value she provides in her courses.

Sandra adheres to the framework set out by The Project Management Institute, but her own business experience enables her to make difficult project management concepts seem easy as she delivers her training in clear and understandable terms. She helps course participants avoid common project management mistakes. Her teaching aids and exercises are popular, and the group work sessions are critically important in applying concepts to real life projects.

Why wait until the fall to start your Project Management training? Registration for the May delivery of Certificate in Comprehensive Project Management is now open. For Full Certificate Details and to Register click here.
