

SMU NEWS

Interpreting Services Newsletter

Faculty of Science

In this issue:

- Happy Holidays
- Featured Resource
- Did you know

As a higher academic institution, SMU strongly believes in ongoing professional growth. With the purpose to enhance the skills of the pool of interpreters working in the SMU Faculty of Science and ultimately the level of service to the University community.

Remember, “Professional development is a process, not an event.”

Happy Holidays

The Saint Mary's Faculty of Science Interpreting Services wishes you all a very merry holiday season.

Hoping you have time to relax, spend time with family & friends, eat delicious food, drink delectable drinks, and spread holiday cheer.

Be safe over the holidays and see you all in the New Year!

Did you know:

The chemistry of gingerbreads? Well, click here to find out more.

As well, check out the full advent calendar of Christmas chemistry from the smell of Christmas trees, to mulled wine, to cranberries, and more.

Featured Resource

Have you taken a look at Linda's Dynamic Environment & Ecosystem Health Research lab website lately? Updates of new information have been added, specifically the Research Opportunities, Nova Scotia gold mining issues section.

These webpages are great resources to keep up to date on the research and work Linda and her lab are doing.

Also, be sure to also check Linda's Twitter feed which is regularly updated with interesting articles, images, and more.